

 PRESS RELEASE ***

November 2, 2018

Wharton School's Pension Research Council Welcomes the Mutual of America Life Insurance Co.
as Associate Member

The Pension Research Council at the Wharton School of the University of Pennsylvania is pleased to announce that the Mutual of America Life Insurance Co. has renewed its membership as an Associate of the Council for 2019. The Mutual of America Life Insurance Co. first joined the PRC as an Institutional Member in 1995.

John R. Greed, Chairman, President and CEO of Mutual of America said, "The Pension Research Council of the Wharton School has made significant contributions to understanding how people worldwide prepare for retirement, and we are proud to provide continued support to this effort. We look forward to working with our academic and business partners to advance research, explore policy issues, and develop innovative approaches to retirement in the United States and abroad."

Olivia S. Mitchell, Professor of Insurance/Risk Management and Applied Economics/Policy, and Executive Director of the Wharton's Pension Research Council at the University of Pennsylvania, said: "The Council is delighted to continue its close research relationship with the Mutual of America Life Insurance Company. We are delighted to work with the firm on research enhancing retirement security."

Mutual of America Life Insurance Co. is dedicated to making a difference in the world, not only by providing quality retirement plan products and services to plan sponsors to help their employees meet their long-term financial objectives, but also by having a direct, positive impact on the future of our society. A sense of social responsibility has distinguished Mutual of America since their founding as a provider of retirement plan services for employees in nonprofit organizations.

The Pension Research Council is committed to generating debate on key policy issues affecting pensions and other employee benefits. The Council sponsors interdisciplinary research on private pension and social security programs, as well as related benefit plans in the United States and around the world. It supports scholarly research on global aging, successful retirement, and retirement income security while facilitating access to research and data critical to the investigation of retirement security. Recent working papers are available for download at The Pension Research Council Working Paper Library.

The Wharton School of the University of Pennsylvania

Founded in 1881 as the first collegiate business school, the Wharton School of the University of Pennsylvania is recognized globally for intellectual leadership and ongoing innovation across every major discipline of business education. With a broad global community and one of the most published business school faculties, Wharton creates economic and social value around the world. The School has 5,000 undergraduate, MBA, executive MBA, and doctoral students; more than 9,000 participants in executive education programs annually and a powerful alumni network of 92,000 graduates.