Wharton School's Pension Research Council Welcomes The Vanguard Group as Director Level Member

The Pension Research Council at the Wharton School of the University of Pennsylvania is pleased to announce that The Vanguard Group has joined the Council as a Director Level Member for 2022. Vanguard has been a PRC member since 1999.

Dr. Joel Dickson, Global Head of Advice Methodology at The Vanguard Group said, “We are delighted to once again support the Pension Research Council of the Wharton School. The PRC has made significant contributions to understanding how people worldwide prepare for retirement, and we look forward to continuing our partnership to advance research, explore policy issues, and develop innovative approaches to retirement in the United States and abroad.”

Dr. Olivia S. Mitchell, Professor of Insurance/Risk Management and Applied Economics/Policy, and Executive Director of the Wharton's Pension Research Council at the University of Pennsylvania, said, “The Council is delighted to continue our research relationship and collaboration with The Vanguard Group on matters of retirement security and financial literacy.”

The Vanguard Group, headquartered in Valley Forge, Pennsylvania, is one of the world's largest investment management companies, with more than $8.5 trillion in global assets (as of December 31, 2021). The late Vanguard founder, John C. Bogle, who attended classes at the University of Pennsylvania early in his career, is credited with the creation of the first index fund available to individual investors. Vanguard offers more than 400 mutual funds and ETFs to its more than 30 million investors around the world.

The Pension Research Council is committed to generating debate on key policy issues affecting pensions and other employee benefits. The Council sponsors interdisciplinary research on private pension and social security programs, as well as related benefit plans in the United States and around the world. It supports scholarly research on global aging, successful retirement, and retirement income security while facilitating access to research and data critical to the investigation of retirement security. Recent working papers are available for download at the Pension Research Council repository on Scholarly Commons.
